

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A digital cross connect includes a first transport switch that grooms inbound traffic for at least one local switch and a second transport switch that grooms outbound
5 traffic for the local switch(es). The transport switches may operate independently. The local switch(es) may be protocol switches. The digital cross connect may be deployed in a central office in an electrical, optical, or wireless network.